

The Australian Anthropological Society

Invites you to the:
Inaugural Distinguished Lecture in Anthropology

A public lecture to be delivered by:

Ghassan Hage

Future Generation Professor in Anthropology and Social Theory at the University of Melbourne

Ghassan Hage is an internationally acclaimed thinker, both as an academic and an arresting public intellectual. He is the author of many works on nationalism, racism, multiculturalism and migration from a comparative perspective. The most well-known is White Nation (2000) examining White experiences of Australian Multiculturalism, and his latest is Waiting (2009). Prof. Hage taught Anthropology at the University of Sydney for fifteen years until 2007. He has held many prestigious visiting professorships including at Harvard University, L'Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales in Paris, the University of Copenhagen and the American University of Beirut. His provocative, insightful and sometimes moving press and radio discussions have been a valuable part of public life in Australia during the last decade.

Tuesday 8th December 2009

State Library of NSW
Macquarie Street, Sydney
Metcalf Auditorium
FREE ADMISSION

Program:

6pm Refreshments will be served

6.30 – 7.15 Lecture

7.15 – 7.45 Questions from audience

8pm Finish

Please Visit www.aas.asn.au
for further information

The open mind and its enemies: Anthropology and the passion of the political Ghassan Hage

The Australian Anthropological Society

The open mind and its enemies: Anthropology and the passion of the political Ghassan Hage

Inaugural Distinguished Lecture in Anthropology

Tuesday 8th December 2009

State Library of NSW
Macquarie Street, Sydney
Metcalf Auditorium

The State Library is situated between the Royal Botanic Gardens and Parliament House on Macquarie Street, Sydney.

ARRIVING BY CAR

There is no onsite parking at The State Library of New South Wales. Conveniently located parking stations include:

Secure Parking

131 Macquarie St, Sydney
T 02 8912 4900
Open until midnight Mon-Sat, 5pm Sun

Metro Parking

8 Hospital Rd, Sydney
T 02 9223 1166
Open until 9.30pm Mon-Fri, 8pm Sat,
6pm Sun

Domain Parking Station

Sir John Young Crescent
Woolloomooloo NSW 2011
T 02 9232 6944
Open until 9pm Mon-Sat

If you require parking for mobility impaired guests please contact Lucy Mothersole on 02 9273 1604 or 02 9273 1744

ARRIVING BY TRAIN OR BUS

The closest train stations are Martin Place and St James.
Circular Quay is only a short walk away.
The Sydney Explorer bus stops outside the Library on Macquarie Street.

ENTRANCE:

Unless by prior arrangement the entrance for guests is via Macquarie Street.
Please Visit www.aas.asn.au
for further information